

Name

Date

Biology: Chapter 4

The three main parts of plants are roots, stems, and leaves.

Flowering plants have a fourth part.

Each of these parts are called organs.

Roots provide the plant with nutrients from the soil and serve as an anchor.

pollen    stamens    carpel    ovary

egg    seed    xylem    phloem    pith